Bank Robber Reckless With Gun

Killed the Cashier and Seriously Wounded the President
—Captured and Taken to Indiana Jail—Not Over
Twenty Years Old.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 11.—In an attempt at bank robbery, a young man who has been partially identified as Arthur Hall of Louisville, a dealer in second hand furniture, entered the Merchants National bank in New Albany, Ind., shortly before noon today and killed J. Hangary Fawcett, cashier of the bank, seriously wounded John K. Woodward, president of the bank, and wounded James H. Tucker, a negro chauffeur, probably fatally.

Ordered Everyone to "Get Into the Vault."

When Hall entered the bank he carried a pistol in each hand. After commanding everyone to throw up his hands and "get into the vault," Hall began shooting.

Cashier Fawcett was shot through the chest and neck, and died almost instantly. President Woodward was shot through the liver and his intestines were perforated. Tucker, the chauffeur, was shot through the body.

Tried to Escape in Automobile.

As the shooting was rushed from the bank and tried to escape in an automobile, which he had taken from the curb in front of the residence of his mother, Mrs. Walter E. Scott, in Louisville. He had forced the negro chauffeur at the point of a pistol to drive him to New Albany.

Captured While Crossing Ohio River.

The chauffeur, paralyzed with terror and apparently incapable of action, sat still when the robber, after shooting the banker, jumped into the car and ordered him to speed up the machine. Then the robber jumped out of the automobile, shot the negro in the back and ran two blocks to the Ohio river. He seized a skiff and was on his way to the Louisville side of the river before the frightened citizens of New Albany knew what had happened. An alarm was given through a megaphone on a dredge boat, and in a short time several policemen started in pursuit in a fast motor boat.

Sheriff Kept Mob Back by Rifle.

Capturing their man, they rushed him to shore, where by a ruse Police Captain Adams kept back the crowd of 200 persons which crowded around the dock as the police boat landed. Commanding the prisoner to lie down, Captain Adams announced to the crowd that the man had taken poison and was dead, meanwhile carrying him to the patrol wagon and giving the word to drive ahead. The bandit was taken to the New Albany jail. A few moments later he was removed to the Southern Indiana reformatory at Jeffersonville, to escape the mob which, realizing that it had been tricked, assembled around the jail.

Refused to Give His Name.

In his cell at the reformatory the prisoner refused to give his name and talked only when hard pressed by questions.

He said that he had been around Louisville for several days. He did not know Tucker, the chauffeur, and declared that he was not implicated in the attempt on the bank.

"I won't tell my name. I have seven brothers and sisters. My father don't live with my mother and all of them live within six hundred miles of this place. I never was in trouble but once. That was at Lexington, Ky., on Halloween a long time ago."

He seemed to be confused, but is apparently not insane. He confessed that he planned the robbery of the bank, and says he had no assistance.

About Twenty Years Old.

The bandit is good looking, in a boyish, somewhat effeminate way. He is not over 20 years old.

Bandit Identified.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 11.—Tonight the bandit was identified as Thomas Jefferson Hall, and, according to William J. Hall, his father, he is but 17 years old. The elder Hall, who has a furniture store in this city, said that young Hall was a household tyrant and not insane at all.

"He is simply mean," said the father. The family is formerly of Knoxville, Tenn.

ONLY EIGHTEEN,

Yet Waterbury Woman Has Been Married Three Times.

The Waterbury Republican says: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lifshitz were quietly married Sunday afternoon at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Chotzianoff, 47 Cooke street. The ceremony was performed in the Jewish ritual by the bride's grandfather, Rabbi Chotzianoff, of New York city.

The couple were first married by Justice of the Peace Henry W. Minor, but as Rabbi Chotzianoff held that the marriage contract was not legal unless performed by a rabbi, the second ceremony took place. The first was performed only one month after Mrs. Lifshitz secured a divorce from her first husband, Herman Freedman.

Mrs. Lifshitz is only 18 years of age and she has been married three times, twice to one husband, and twice divorced, first civilly and second by the Hebrew law.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS CHANGE.

Dissolution of the W. M. Terry Co., in Bridgeport.

The old established firm of W. M. Terry Co., which has been one of the big firms of Bridgeport for over a dozen years, will be dissolved. This week the big warehouse at the corner of Water and Gilbert streets, and the wholesale grocery business, was sold to Miller, Read & Garrette, of New Haven, who have a large branch in Bridgeport, and which will be enlarged by the new deal. The New Haven firm takes over the business and the warehouse by January 12 next.

The Pig Raffle.

Two loafers, being hard up, decided on a pig raffle. So they had a pig poster printed. It said:

To be raffled, a fine Berkshire boar, recently imported with the Gould stock. Drawings, 25 cents each.

Small and Greenwood.

The raffle went well. The two loafers made a lot of money. Then came the day when the result was to be announced.

The loafers read over their list of victims and selected the man they thought the most gullible and meek. To him they wrote:

Sir: We are happy to inform you that the raffle of the magnificent Berkshire boar was held last evening, and you are the fortunate winner. We hold the animal at your disposal.

Small and Greenwood.

But the winner had hardly received this letter and the first thrill of joy had hardly warmed his breast before he received another missive.

Sir: We regret to inform you that the Berkshire boar died very suddenly last night. We do not know the exact cause of death, but judging from the symptoms, would impute same to hog cholera now so prevalent. Owing to the existing sanitary arrangements the animal had to be buried without delay. We shall be glad to receive your check for $5.00, being the amount of interest expenses incurred.

Small and Greenwood.

The winner, it is true, did not remit his check for $5.00, but he thought it unsafe to investigate the loss of the boar.—Louisville Times.

Reason for His Silence.

Thomas W. Lawson of Boston has taken no part so far in the polar dispute, but Tom doesn't act as press agent for outsiders.—Atlanta Journal.

GOING TO HUNGARY.

Harry Schoenberg One of the Pardoned Soldiers.

Harry Schoenberg, the barber at 244 Main street, is one of the deserting soldiers of the Austro-Hungarian army who were granted amnesty by the king recently, as announced in the papers throughout this country and the world, and he is now preparing to return to his native town of Winger, Hungary, to visit his father and other relatives. His father is now 94 years of age and has not seen his son since 1890, when he left the army and came to America as a great many other young Austrians and Hungarians did. Mr. Schoenberg has communicated with the consul of his country in New York and has made arrangements for his return to the old country after securing the papers which grant him the pardon of his king. He expects to leave about two months.

The shop at 244 Main street which Mr. Schoenberg has conducted for several years has been closed and the fixtures have been sold.—Danbury News.

A Case of Architectural Rickets.

The nine-year-old, two million dollar criminal courts building in New York city seems to have developed a very marked case of architectural or structural rickets, and is so uncertain and so unsafe that its occupants have moved out of the building as some qualified body shall decide if it needs to be pulled down and rebuilt—or not. There are insecure foundations in New York city and we have heard of skyscrapers under some of the City Hall park buildings, but nine years from start to finish is quicker than most sands of life in New York buildings have been accustomed to run out.—Bridgeport Standard.

Vice Consul General G. H. Butler of Tientsin reports that during the latter part of July and the first week of August the three provinces of Manchuria and practically all of China north of the Yangtze suffered severely in damage to crops and lines of communication from exceptionally large rains.

LAGER AND ALE

NARRAGANSETT BREWING CO. PROVIDENCE

The Swine or the Flower?

Oh me! I saw a huge and loathsome sty,
Wherein a drove of wallowing swine were barred,
Whose banquet shocked the nostril and the eye;
Then spoke a voice, "Behold the source of LARD!"

I fled, and saw a field that seemed at first
One glistening mass of roses pure and white,
With dowy buds mid dark green foliage nursed;
And as I lingered o'er the lovely sight,
The summer breeze that cooled that Southern scene,
Whispered, "Behold the source of COTTOLINE!"

"Nature's Gift from the Sunny South"

COTTOLINE is a pure and wholesome frying and shortening medium, made from refined cottonseed oil. There is not an ounce of hog fat in it to make food unwholesome, greasy and indigestible. As evidence of its superiority, COTTOLINE received Grand Prize (highest possible award) at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition; and Gold Medals (also representing highest awards in each case) at the Charleston Exposition, the Paris Exposition, and the Chicago World's Fair. In fact, in every case where COTTOLINE has been exhibited in competition with other cooking fats, it has invariably been granted the highest award.
